TO REDUCE SPEED OF LIMITED TRAIN

Schedule to be 20 Hours Between New York and Chicago as Result of Awful Disaster.

NINETEEN KILLED IN MENTOR WRECK

Responsibility for Holocaust Still Undecided by Officials.

THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DELIBERATELY PLANNED BY A MANIAC OR SOMEONE WANTING REVENGE--TERRIBLE SCENES FOLLOWING WRECK DESCRIBED BY THOSE WHO ESCAPED.

By Associated Press.
New York, June 22.—The Twentieth Century Limited on the New York Central and Lake Shore lines will be restored to the twenty hour schedule instead of the eighteen hour schedule now in force. President Newman made this announcement this afternoon, saying he did not believe last night's accident was due to the speed of the train but it was his judgment that the twenty hour schedule should be restored at once.

NINETEEN DEAD AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

Cleveland, June 22.—The list of fatal injuries in last night's wreck of the Twentieth Century flyer on the Lake Shore at Mentor, Ohio, is nineteen persons. All the victims are prominent in the business and professional world in New York, Chicago and other cities.

The train was running at the rate of seventy miles an hour at the time of the accident and fire added to the horror of the scene and caused many deaths. Twelve were injured.

As to who is responsible for the wreck which caused the wreck the officials of the road are still uncertain. They believe the wreck was the result either of the act of a maniac, who wanted to see the wreck of such a fast train or of some person who wanted revenge. A careful examination of the switch showed it to be in perfect condition.

TERRIBLE SCENES FOLLOWING WRECK.

Cleveland, O., June 22.—The scene following the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited at Mentor last night was terrible. The night was dark and the light from the blazing wreck. Men swarmed about the burning coaches combating the flames with the means at hand, groping their way through the scalding steam that rose in clouds, hunting for the injured. Those pitiful cries chilled the heart. There was a small water supply and the means at hand for fighting the flames were pitifully inadequate but the zeal of the rescuers wrought great things for the first few minutes. It was known that a number of injured were helpless in the wreck, but though the work was done with frantic haste, the flames gradually drove the rescuers back and after ten minutes of battle the rescuers were driven away from the blazing combination coach and the imprisoned passengers were incinerated.

Despite their help the fire burned until after midnight and the last black and burned corpse was not recovered from the funeral pyre until 1 o'clock. Pullman Conductor O'Neill with his porters, did valiant work. Bedding, blankets and sheets were stripped from the berths of the four Pullman coaches and used for the relief of the sufferers.

Conductor Alexander Hammond, who rescued, started the work of rescue and led his fellow trainmen and the seriously hurt of the passengers to the scene of rescue.

Officials of the road started an informal investigation immediately on the arrival. They could not understand why or how the train would be stalled at the switch, which is provided with every known safeguard and was carefully inspected prior to the passing of the train. It was a tragic coincidence of the wreck that it should

NEWS FROM BATTLEFIELDS IS EXCEEDINGLY MEAGRE

TELEGRAM SPEAKS OF "REAR GUARD ACTION" AND RUMOR IS CURRENT IN ST. PETERSBURG THAT LINEVITCH IS RETREATING--POWERS OF NEW POPULAR ASSEMBLY DEFINED.

By Associated Press.
St. Petersburg, June 23.—2 a. m.—News from the battlefields is exceedingly meagre. A press telegram received Tuesday speaks of "Rear guard action" and there are rumors in the city that the Russian army is retreating. The latest dispatch from General Linevitch on the same date declared briefly that the Japanese advance had paused.

The New Assembly.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—The Novoe Vremya to-day announces definitely the powers of the new popular assembly which will be composed of five hundred members selected for five years, to be co-equal with those of the council of the empire, and all legislation to become law must pass both houses and receive the Emperor's approval. Other features given agree with information already cabled the Associated Press.

Representatives of the press will be admitted to the assembly, but reports must be censored before publication. In addition there will be a regular official publication of the proceedings, like the Congressional Record.

happen close by the summer home of Horace Andrews, president of the Cleveland Electric Railway company, and that one of the fatally injured passengers should be his life-long friend and bosom companion, C. H. Wellman. Mr. Wellman knew that when he was near the house of his friend. When he was carried to a place of safety his first words were a feeble call for Mr. Andrews. Bystanders learned of the wish of the supposedly dying man and a shout went up for the man he wanted to see. Mr. Andrews had hurried to the scene of the catastrophe as soon as he learned of it and he was led to the spot where Mr. Wellman lay in his agony. Kneeling by the side of the sufferer, Mr. Andrews spoke a few words of comfort.

"Come nearer," whispered Mr. Wellman. His friend leaned close to the injured man. "I'm terribly hurt, Horace. Yes, I'm dying. I'm terribly scared and won't live. I know that. So I want you to take this message to my wife." Mr. Andrews leaned still closer so that the message was whispered in his ear. Doctors, nurses

ZIGZAG JOURNEY OF THE PRESIDENT

Brought to a Close by Departure from Williamstown, Mass. for Washington.

MADE ADDRESSES AT 3 COLLEGES

At Two of Which He Received High Honorary Degrees.

SPOKE CORDIALLY OF RECEPTION TENDERED HIM EVERYWHERE AND WAS ESPECIALLY PLEASED WITH RECENT SOUTHERN TRIP--ADVOCATED STRONG NAVY.

By Associated Press.
Williamstown, Mass., June 22.—The zigzag journey of President Roosevelt among the colleges of Western Massachusetts ended today with his departure from Williamstown after he had received from Williams College the honorary degree of LL. D.

His stay in this state, which was of scarcely thirty-two hours duration, was a busy one. He attended three college commencements, at two of which he received high honorary degrees; traveled several hundred miles and besides delivered significant addresses at each commencement and made a number of speeches from the platform of his car to citizens who had gathered at stations along the route.

Among other things he said in his speech here: "I want to say a word about idealism in politics. I like to see every graduate upholding his standard of practical idealism in his life. Ideals must not be high and fantastic nor low and impracticable. Do not delude yourself into the belief that fantastic ideals are an indication of superior virtue. Adopt strong practical ideals and then strive to follow them as did Washington and Lincoln. Do not abandon idealism because it happens not to work in your case."

The President spoke of the cordiality of the reception given him wherever he went, north, south, east or west, and said he was especially pleased on his recent southern trip at the same solicitude by those who had worn the gray as by those who had worn the blue.

Made Short Address.
Milford, Conn., June 22.—The President appeared on the rear platform when his special train reached here this afternoon and, after shaking hands with the people assembled, made a short address. He spoke of the necessity of having a strong navy and said that while a strong power should not impose upon a weaker one, in turn it should not be imposed upon.

Cheers for President.
Jersey City, June 22.—The President's train left here for Washington at 8:15 p. m. Three cheers were given for the President by those assembled at the station.

COUNCIL DISAPPROVES OF MAYOR'S ACTION

REPUBLIC MUST TRUST TO SCHOOLS NOT BATTLESHIPS

CARL SCHURZ, IN ADDRESS AT UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SAYS NATION SHOULD SCORN ROLE OF SWASHBUCKLER--PRESIDENT VAN HISE SCORED UPBUILDING OF UNIVERSITIES WITH "TAINTED FORTUNES."

By Associated Press.
Madison, Wis., June 22.—The commencement day address at the University of Wisconsin was delivered this afternoon by Hon. Carl Schurz, of New York. He said in part: "This republic should stand as a gentleman par excellence among nations; gentleman scorn the role of Swashbuckler, whose hip pocket bulges with a loaded six shooter and who flashes big diamonds on his fingers and shirt front; gentleman modest in consciousness, carrying justice, forbearance and conciliation on the tongue and benevolence in the hand, rather than a chip on the shoulder. If this republic is to endure and be successful in its highest mission it must put its trust rather in schools than in battleships."

Does Not Think Charges Warranted Removal of Comptroller Geo. T. Morgan.

THE COMPTROLLER WAS RE-INSTATED

Mayor Bliss Makes Another Sensational Charge.

SAYS HE THINKS CITY HAS BEEN SYSTEMATICALLY ROBBED FOR YEARS--COUNCIL TAKES EXCEPTION TO CHARGE AND CALLS FOR PROOFS WITHIN NEXT TEN DAYS.

At a special session of the City Council which convened yesterday at noon, City Comptroller Geo. T. Morgan, who was removed the day previous by Mayor Bliss upon three separate charges, was exonerated and re-instated in his office.

When the council met there were present Mayor Bliss, and Aldermen Baars, Gingles, Hays, Maura, Muldon, Reilly and Wright, constituting a quorum. The mayor stated the object of the meeting to be to hear the charges which he had preferred against the comptroller, these being for willful neglect of duty by absenting himself from the city; drawing warrants for fraudulent claims against the city; and not having his bond approved by the mayor.

The meeting was an interesting one, and there were a large number of spectators. In fact the hall was almost filled, and at frequent intervals the marshal was compelled to call for order that the speakers might be heard.

Alderman Muldon, who took a prominent part throughout the proceedings was the first to arise. He asked for the opinion of the city attorney upon the charges filed against the comptroller, as to whether or not they were legal.

City Attorney Jones stated that, without investigating the matter, he thought the first two charges, that of drawing warrants for fraudulent claims and for absenting himself from the city without permission of the mayor were sufficient cause for removal, or rather were good charges, but that the last, that of not having his bond according to law was not, in his opinion, a good charge.

Mr. Muldon then moved that the investigation proceed. Mr. Morgan entered a plea of not guilty to all of the charges, and the clerk proceeded to read the first charge, that of willfully absenting himself from the city without permission of the mayor.

Mr. Morgan in this connection stated that he had gone to Mr. Bliss, shortly after his election as mayor, and told him that he was going to leave the city for his health, but that he had secured C. L. Shiner to attend to his clerical work. Mr. Morgan also stated that he called upon Mr. Reilly, chairman of the finance committee, and asked the latter if there was anything connected with his department that he (Morgan) could perform before leaving, and was told that there was not. Mr. Morgan contended that he stood upon the same plane as an alderman, and that while he had notified the mayor and others that he intended taking a vacation for his health, that he had the right to leave the city at any time that he might choose.

Mayor Bliss replied to Mr. Morgan. He said that he had met Mr. Morgan in the office of the clerk or tax collector and that the latter told him he was going to leave the city, but did not ask him for permission to do so. The mayor said he did not think the comptroller had the power to appoint some one to act in his stead. In fact no such authority was vested in him. If, said the mayor, the comptroller had the authority to appoint some one to act in his stead for two weeks, he had the right to appoint a man to serve one year, or in fact during his entire term. The mayor thought that the absence of the comptroller for two weeks was sufficient cause for removal.

Beef Trust Grand Jurors Played Part of Detectives

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 22.—Work of the Federal grand jury investigating the beef industries to-day showed that members of the inquisitorial body had been playing the part of detectives in finding witnesses who may enlighten them on certain points concerning the buying of cattle by the packers. As a result of this private investigation number testified before the jury of the trouble a cattle shipper has in selling his live stock in the Chicago market. It was stated afterwards by one of the witnesses that he told the jurors that live stock buyers had regular and off days for bidding and that the prices offered were uniform. If a shipper did not accept the first bid he had to wait until the next bidding day arrived and then the same bid would be made. Thus the shipper was forced to sell or have his profits eaten up by feeding charges.
